

Jesus' Way of Peace: Nonviolent Love

"I was amazed at the closeness of Fr. McCarthy's concept of nonviolence to that of Dorothy Day. The reason is obvious. Both are scriptural in origin; both base their concepts on Christ Himself. Fr. McCarthy speaks with a kind of eloquent clarity, with more than a touch of prophetic insight. Those who truly desire peace should listen to him."

—Deane Mowrer, THE CATHOLIC WORKER, OCT-NOV 1983

"Fr. McCarthy is the best teacher on Christian nonviolence in the United States."

(Rev.) Emmanuel Charles McCarthy is a priest of the Eastern Rite (Byzantine) of the Catholic Church. For 27 years he was associated with St. Gregory the Theologian Byzantine Melkite Catholic Seminary in Roslindale, Massachusetts, as teacher, spiritual director or acting rector. Formerly a lawyer and a university educator and the founder and original director of The Program for the Study and Practice of Nonviolent Conflict Resolution at the University of Notre Dame. He was also a co-founder of Pax Christi-USA. For over forty years he has directed educational programs and conducted spiritual retreats throughout the world on the issue of the relationship of faith and violence. He was the keynote speaker at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee for the 25th anniversary memorial of the assassination of Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., at that motel. He is the author of three books: Christian Just War Theory: The Logic of Deceit; August 9; and All Things Flee Thee, For Thou Fleest Me!: A Cry to the Churches and Their Leaders to Stop Running from the Nonviolent Jesus and His Nonviolent Way. He has also authored innumerable articles on the subject of violence and religion.

His audio/video series on Gospel nonviolence, Behold the Lamb, is universally considered to be the most spiritually profound presentation on this matter available in this format. The writings of Fr. McCarthy on Christian Nonviolence may be found on the website of the Center for Christian Nonviolence at www.CenterforChristianNonviolence.org.

John Carmody, the Director of the Center, is a former Marine Corps Captain and Viet Nam veteran, who left in 1970 to teach and pursue a career in neurobiology. From this background and his study of the theology and spirituality of Christian Nonviolence, he will offer an introduction into the critical issue of the relationship between Nonviolence and Neuroscience.
